BRITISH TAKE POZIERES AND RUSSIAN, ERZINGAN; IS RECORD FOR ONE DAY

General Sakharoff Also Announces Capture of Many Prisoners on Slonevka River—Military Cities Believe Hardest Teutonic Defense Taken on Somme—Italians Report Progress.

London, July 26, 10:40 p. m.—The allies are able to congratulate themselves on another good day's record with the capture of important positions of Pozieres, on the western front, and Erzincan in Armenia, while the Russian general, Sakharoff, in the fighting on the Slonevka river captured another 4,000 prisoners and five guns.

The British secretary for war, David Lloyd George, in a published statement tonight, shows the importance of the Germans attached to the retention of Pozieres by quoting from a German divisional order issued in Contalmaison on July 11 as follows:

"Furthermore, the conversion of villages into strong points is of the greatest importance. Such villages are Pozieres, Contalmaison and the two Bazezins and Longueval."

Secretary Lloyd George points out that with the capture of Pozieres the last of these villages has fallen into the allies' hands. He further points out that today's German claim "will lead to a clerical error as Trones Wood has been in British possession since July 14."

The opinion of the military critics

in London is that no position so strong as the British are now successfully taking will be found between Pozieres and Bazezins; otherwise, they argue, the Germans would not have risked bringing troops and guns from the Verdun sector to defend Pozieres and it is inferred from indications in the official dispatches that the British are already beginning to establish themselves on both sides of the road from Pozieres to Bazezins.

As on the western front the Germans and the Austrians failed to make a success anywhere against the victorious Russian forces, General Sakharoff's recent success has brought him within about twelve miles of Brody, which guards the approaches to Lemberg and places Von Bothmer's army in danger.

The unexpectedly swift fall of Erzincan leads to the supposition here that the Turks must have removed the bulk of the defenses of this town to assist in such a difficult country.

The Italian front attracts little public interest but the Italians have been recently making good progress in the Dolomites region.

With Cargo All Aboard Submarine Liner Dash for Open Seas to Take Place Soon

The loading of the Deutschland at her berth in Baltimore is shown in the above picture. A hard task is ahead for the submarine, as the craft cannot submerge in the protected area and must wait until dark night to start for the Cape, where allied warships are watching for her. Clearance papers were obtained last night.

HARTMAN'S BONDSMAN WANTS MONEY BACK

PAID FEDERAL AUTHORITIES $20,000 WHEN ALLEGED MOONSHINER LEFT COUNTRY.

Valuable Scout Attached to American Expedition in Mexico as Guy Johnson Admits He Is Guy Hartman.

Kansas City, July 26.—Congress probably will be asked soon to pass a bill appropriating $20,000 to John H. White, wealthy merchant of Kansas City. As the bondsman for Guy Hartman, judgment for that amount was entered in the federal court last October against Mr. White. Upon learning here this afternoon that the expeditionary scout was said to have confessed to being Hartman, the alleged moonshiner, White busied himself in efforts to have the bond money returned. He was informed an appropriation bill was necessary and he declared he would ask for it.

Scout Johnson Makes Confession. Columbus, N. M., July 26.—The expeditionary scout known as Guy Johnson held here by military authorities confessed today that he is Guy Hartman, wanted by United States authorities in Fort Smith, Ark., in connection with alleged "moonshining" key frauds, according to Captain Louis J. Van Schick, chief of the local army intelligence bureau. Hartman said he would waive extradition and return for trial.

Johnson, whom army officers assert has been one of the most valuable scouts attached to the American expedition in Mexico, told a story of a year of mental torture constantly with him. In telling it, he revealed, however, that although a fugitive from justice in the United States his patriotism was greater than his fear and as a result he offered his services to General Pershing. At military headquarters it was announced he had made the following statement:

"I am Guy Hartman and am anxious to waive extradition and go to Arkansas for trial. At the time of my flight in May, 1915, I was under a $20,000 bond to appear for trial May 21, 1915.

"From Fort Smith I went to Juarez, Mexico, and from there to Chihuahua, where I remained but three days, leaving for Temohachi, Chihuahua, where I secured work on the Acken ranch. I stayed on this ranch from June, 1915, until March, 1916, until Villistas forced me to leave the territory and with other ranch hands I was compelled to flee.

"We remained in hiding in the mountains until the morning of April 11 when news reached us that American troops were in Mexico. I determined to do what I could and on the following morning I made my way into the American camp and offered my services as a scout. I was assigned to the Seventh cavalry. I continued with that organization until I was taken ill ten days ago and the army physicians ordered me to Columbus for treatment. At the border I was taken into custody."

Case Looks Bad for Hinterliter

Olney, Ill., July 26.—An explanation of the circumstances to which are attributed the death of Miss Elizabeth Radcliffe late Friday night was given today by H. G. Morris, state's attorney.

Because of the girl's death, Roy Hinterliter is held without bail to await action by the November court. It is claimed by the state's attorney, was due to a bungling attempt to perform a medical operation. Air bubbles, it is claimed, entered the circulatory system of the young girl and when they reached the heart, the death must have resulted. States Attorney Morris today gave out a statement explaining the pathological features of the case. Stating that the autopsy showed that the girl was in a delicate condition, the prosecutor said:

"There were no exterior marks of violence. Three experienced surgeons found all organs perfectly normal.

"In cutting into the right ventricle air escaped. The heart was perfectly healthy. When the surgeons removed the top of the skull they noticed bubbles of air. All blood vessels of the brain showed air circulation. There were no structural changes, but on a test the brain floated in water. There was no lesion of the lung.

"Later it was discovered that a man threw away an instrument used in an illegal operation. It was found. The man had boasted of having previously used such instruments.

"The prosecutor has letters said to have been written by Hinterliter to the girl

HEAT WAVE GRIPS CENTRAL STATES

Chicago, July 26.—Excessively hot weather held its grip on the middle west today with little prospect of immediate relief in any locality. Quincy, Ill., reported the highest temperature—102. Reports of steadily rising temperature came in throughout the day from points as far west as Omaha. The entire corn belt reported suffering from the heat while the need for moisture for the growing crops became more manifest.

In Chicago the heat was tempered somewhat by a light breeze from the lake. Thirteen deaths from the heat during the twenty-four hours ending at noon today were reported here.

Springfield. Springfield, Ill., July 26.—At 2 p. m. the government thermometer registered 100.

Ottumwa. Ottumwa, Iowa, July 26.—Two years' heat records were shattered here today when the official thermometer registered 102 degrees. Some street thermometers registered 108.

Burlington. Burlington, Iowa, July 26.—Today was the hottest day of the summer, the mercury reading 103 1-4 degrees at 1 p. m.

Clinton. Clinton, Iowa, July 26.—Today was the hottest in years, 102 degrees being registered by the government thermometer at 2:30 p. m.

MANY STRINGS TO POLISH RELIEF PLAN

ENGLAND INSISTS THE TEUTONS PROMISE NOT TO TAKE NATIVES' FOOD.

Another Condition Is That Supplies Not Be Used by Military Forces.

Washington, July 26.—Great Britain in granting conditional permission for importation of food into Poland has surrounded her concession with restrictions which, it is feared here, will again defeat the effort being made by the United States to get relief supplies to the starving Polish people.

Although according to the suggestion that food be permitted to pass through the British lines under guarantee that its distribution would be supervised by a neutral commission, the British government has stipulated that in return the Austro-German forces occupying Poland must not take native food from the territory. That stipulation has been the chief stumbling block in previous negotiations on the subject.

Another condition insisted that Germany and Austria obligate themselves to prevent any of the relief supplies from being used by military forces. Semi-official statements by the German press bureau that Germany had given full guarantees to that effect are officially denied at the state department.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

Senate. Senator Kern gave notice of caucus decision to consider child labor bill before adjournment. Resumed debate on army appropriation bill. Recessed 6:32 p. m. until 10 a. m. Thursday.

As the states must supply an equal amount each year, a total of $150,000,000 will be spent on state roads during the five-year period.

Villa Located Once More

Chihuahua City, July 26.—Government troops fought a sharp skirmish with Villa forces near Hacienda Tres Estrellas yesterday, scattering the bandits and pursuing them into the hills, according to reports to General Trevino from General Arrieta today. The Carranza column under Col. Quintana surprised the bandits who numbered about a score. Three outlaws were killed, the report said.

Gen. Matias Ramos, commanding the forces engaged in the pursuit of Villa's main band in northern district of Escalante, about 100 miles north of Torreon, and is preparing a detailed report of recent operations for transmission here, he advised General Trevino.

Villa, with about thirty men, is in the Carrizal area near El Paso de Penoles, Durango, according to dispatches from General Ramos.

It was reported that the Villistas were scattered through the foothills of the Sierras in small bands.

AMERICAN WARSHIPS SUBMARINE LINER TO SEE THAT U-BOAT CLEARS FOR ANY GETS A SQUARE DEAL PORT IN GERMANY

CRUISER NORTH CAROLINA AND OTHER VESSELS ON NEUTRALITY DUTY NEAR ALLIED VESSELS JUST BEYOND CAPE HENRY—BREMEN EXPECTED.

Norfolk, Va., July 26.—Almost simultaneously with the clearance of the German submarine liner Deutschland at Baltimore today, the United States cruiser North Carolina and three torpedo boat destroyers, under orders from Washington to do neutrality duty, steamed out beyond Cape Henry and took up positions near the allied cruisers, one of which paid an unannounced visit to lower Chesapeake Bay Monday night.

Officials under the direct command of the navy and treasury departments worked tirelessly today in an effort to obtain all the details of the visit of the foreign cruiser to American waters.

All investigations brought the inquiries back to the original story of the affair as told by officers of the warship Louisiana and the crew of the collier Neptune last night. They had declared unequivocally that they had recognized a strange boat that passed them in the Cape as a British mail-of-war.

Five men, including Commander Phelps, it is understood, saw the cruiser and her signals from the bridge of the Louisiana. The class of signals used by the cruiser, according to the "blinkers," it was declared today by experts, never are found on any but warships.

It was perhaps two miles inside the cape that the Louisiana dropped anchor and saw the cruiser at a distance of about 200 yards carrying man-of-war lights. As is customary with warships, the Louisiana kept the unidentified vessel's name. Then came back the reply by blinkers, "English cruiser."

Several persons who were on the Louisiana, including some officers, declared today they clearly saw gun ports on the cruiser.

Warship Off Beaufort.

Beaufort, N. C., July 26.—At least one allied cruiser was believed to be standing off Beaufort Inlet tonight in an attempt to prevent a possible escape of the German submarine merchantman Bremen, now due at an American port after a voyage similar to that made by her sister ship, Deutschland. The keeper of the Fort Macon coast guard station reported tonight that a strange warship was in sight off the inlet throughout the afternoon. The vessel, according to the station, came back and forth about ten miles at sea until just before dark, when it disappeared.

It was rumored today that the Bremen would arrive here tonight.

Violation of Courtesy.

Washington, July 26.—Aroused by an official report from the commander of the battleship Louisiana that a mysterious ship, purporting to be a British cruiser, had passed into the mouth of Chesapeake Bay early yesterday morning, the navy department today ordered the armored cruiser North Carolina and three destroyers to do neutrality duty off Cape Henry.

Unofficially, the navy agreed that if the ship sighted from the Louisiana was a British cruiser the commander of the vessel had been guilty of a breach of naval practice in violating neutrality laws in cruising within American territorial waters without proper lights. While it was

Baltimore, July 26.—The German submarine liner Deutschland today was cleared by her commander, Captain Paul Koenig, for "Bremen" or "any other port in Germany." Any hour now the vessel may start down Chesapeake bay, prepared to make dash for the open sea through the Virginia Capes and the guard of allied warships off the three-mile limit. Secrecy surrounds the plans of Captain Koenig. After securing his clearance papers at the customs house, he said in reply to questions asked for the benefit of the Maryland Pilots' association that the exact time of his departure was indefinite. Tonight he had made no arrangements for pilot, but he can obtain one almost immediately at any time he desires.

Carl A. Loderite, German consul here, said tonight that the merchant submarine Deutschland would leave for a week. When asked why her departure was further delayed after clearance papers had been taken out, the consul would vouchsafe no explanation.

Mr. Loderite also announced the postponement of a garden party that was to have been held at his suburban home tonight. This was owing to the inability of Ambassador von Bernstorff to be present, he said.

Agents of the sub-sea freighter announced this afternoon that she was ready for the return to Germany. This information was conveyed to the customs house and the office of the clearance clerk was kept open for Captain Koenig, who arrived shortly before 4 o'clock with Captain Hinch of the North German Lloyd from Neckar. After the usual formalities the commander of the submarine requested that his manifest, which he had filed, be withheld from publication for a reasonable time.

Collector of the Port Ryan communicated with the treasury department at Washington and then informed Captain Koenig that his request would be granted. Consequently the cargo of the vessel was described officially by the cargo manifest as being composed of general merchandise.

On his way from the building the little captain tarried long enough to shake hands with several officials, who wished him a safe voyage.

"We certainly are with you," said one of his well wishers, patting him on the shoulder, as he went. Koenig smiled broadly, nodded his head, said "I thank you," and then continued on his way to the pier, where the Deutschland has been tied up for more than two weeks.

Met Thomas F. Timmins, which met the Deutschland off the Virginia Capes on her arrival and which has been constantly near her since, pulled away from the pier late today and went to a nearby coal pier, where she filled her bunkers. Directly afterward she returned to the Deutschland's pier and some hours later it was apparent that she was making a full head of steam in her boilers.

This caused the belief in maritime circles that the start for the Cape might be made during the night. All day there was activity aboard

"Truth in Circulation"

In years gone by the average newspaper has usually claimed a subscription list of several thousands subscribers in advance of the actual circulation. The object of this claim was, of course, to secure more advertising by misrepresenting the paper and its circulation in the matter of these days the Advertising Clubs started its world-wide campaign for "Truth in Advertising." Within the past two years the Audit Bureau of Circulation has been organized with the result that $2 of the best and most influential newspapers throughout the United States have become members of this bureau. This makes it absolutely possible for any publisher who is a member of this bureau to make any truthful statement regarding his circulation.

If the Audit Bureau had done no more than give the local and national advertiser confidence and a feeling of security in the matter of judicially placing his copy, the Bureau has justified its existence; it has accomplished that part of its mission which has relation to the space buyer. More money has been spent on advertising during the past twelve months than ever before in a like period. This increase in expenditure is in a great measure due to the confidence instilled in the minds of the advertiser by the Audit Bureau of Circulation. The local and national advertiser in making his preparation for the coming year, with a confidence and a feeling of security, has placed his copy with the Audit Bureau of Circulation. WAS EMPLOYED.

Judge J. H. Teague, a prominent jurist known throughout Texas for half a century, furnishes a report of much interest relative to Vitalitas. In it Judge Teague says:

"This is to certify that in October, 1906, I became afflicted with muscular rheumatism; was compelled to take to my bed for more than five years. I suffered untold pain. I tried everything known to the medical fraternity for relief; visited the hot wells of Marlin for relief, but received but little. I had almost given up in despair when I consented to try Vitalitas. After taking two bottles I began to experience relief and so continued until today I am as free from pain as any one of my age in Texas. I am in my 72nd year and as spry as most men at 50. I cheerfully recommend this great remedy to all suffering from rheumatism, believing as I do that if taken as directed, a permanent cure will be the result."

Not only for rheumatism is Vitalitas effective, but also for indigestion, biliousness, nervous debility, etc.

Gas Interferes With Recovery of Victims

Cleveland, July 26.—The bodies of the eleven men entombed in the West Side waterworks tunnel may not be recovered for a week, as a result of investigations today which disclosed that gas continues to pour into the tunnel and that there is great danger of a second explosion wrecking the tunnel and the outer crib.

Gustav C. Van Dusen, superintendent of waterworks construction, who is recovering from the effects of his trip with a rescue party into the tunnel Tuesday, declared in a statement today that the electrical equipment in the crib No. 5 section of the tunnel was responsible for the first explosion.

Senate Agrees to Increased Pay
for Army Men

Washington, July 27.—Increased pay for officers and men of the regular army and National Guard in active service for the Mexican emergency, improved camp conditions to safeguard their health and authorization for them to vote in the field at the coming presidential election, were provided in amendments to the army appropriation bill agreed to today by the senate.

By a vote of 44 to 13 the senate also suspended the rules to adopt an amendment changing the age minimum for enlistment in the regular army from 18 to 21 years, with the consent of parent or guardian. Under the provision, boys under 21 now serving in the army would not be retained in the service unless they filed within thirty days written consent of their parents or guardians. The amendment was adopted without a roll call.

Senator Reed of Missouri offered the amendment which would make the existing provision for increased pay to the army when in service on foreign soil apply also to service on the Mexican border. Under it officers will receive a ten per cent and enlisted men twenty per cent increase in pay. In adopting it the senate also increased the house appropriation for pay from $1,650,000 to $1,178,240.

The amendment giving soldiers in the Mexican service authority to vote in the field at the national election has passed without opposition. As a safeguard to the health of soldiers, an amendment was adopted appropriating $250,000 for construction of wooden floors and screens in troop tents along the border.

Cattle have been driven to high ground and but little loss is anticipated from this source.

C. B. BROWN OF U. S.
CHAMBER COMMERCE
MAKES ADDRESS HERE

Local Commercial Leaders Honor Visitor With Luncheon—Delighted at His Talk.

The visit to Waco yesterday of C. B. Brown, chief of the organization department, United States Chamber of Commerce, Washington, D. C., and his address to directors of the Chamber of Commerce, proved one of the most instructive and interesting visits and addresses ever delivered in the rooms of the Waco organization, and those directors who were absent certainly missed a real treat, something inspirational and instructive.

Mr. Brown had been in Corpus Christi on the Texas coast for a fishing trip, having listened to the lure of the tricky tarpon, and after leaving there was induced to stop at Houston and Waco, these two places being the only ones in Texas which were fortunate enough to secure him; he was first invited by Secretary E. F. Drake of the Chamber of Commerce, and was inclined to come, and when in this mood a timely and telling telegram from President J. M. Penland of the Chamber of Commerce dispelled his hesitation and caused him to accept the Hamlet attitude and make a full decision to visit Waco.

In the organization work in which he is engaged Mr. Brown has visited thirteen foreign countries, as ambassador from the United States Chamber of Commerce, so designated by President Wilson, this securing him full entry into all the chambers of commerce, clubs, and all other organizations. He also has in the last five years visited every state in the United States on the same mission, which is that of organization.

In Europe the Imperial Council, which is the commercial club, wrote the tariff law, and all the commercial clubs of Europe are affiliated with the government and take part in all matters affecting the business interests of the country. Former President W. H. Taft, realizing that this was one country not having such an organization to look after its commercial interests as a whole, conceived the United States Chamber of Commerce. The benefits already derived have far more than justified all expectations, and its work appears to be in its infancy.

At the meeting yesterday morning at the Chamber of Commerce Mr. Brown discussed the value of commercial organizations; committee work; the basic principle for all commercial organizations, and he dwelt at length on our South American relations commercially, emphasizing the banking conditions as well as the methods of doing business with the United States in trying to do business, mentioning the mistakes which are being made and which have been in our way down there, but which are in some cases now being corrected.

The entire address was full of instruction, of suggestions, and of good thought along many lines. The directors who with President J. M. Penland heard the address were simply delighted, and their only regret was that every man in the city could not have heard it.

Harry M. Baine stated that the remarks made by Mr. Brown were indeed appreciated by the directors, particularly those bearing upon the committee efficiency. The United States Chamber of Commerce had recently adopted the committee plan as a basic principle of conducting its business. He offered a resolution thanking Mr. Brown for his visit to Waco and this was heartily endorsed.

The address of Mr. Brown was followed by a luncheon at the Raleigh hotel as a courtesy to the visitor, the following being present: J. M. Penland, W. G. Lacy, Harry M. Baine, J. R. Milam, J. B. Earle, R. J. Windrow, Sam Hanna, W. W. Cameron, R. J. Pellow, H. D. Driscoll and E. F. Drake.

Mr. Brown was followed back to Washington to meet business engagements, and it was considered a fortunate stroke that Waco secured him.

The Deutschland, the engines were tested again and again, and twice the vessel was submerged until her keel rested on the bottom in her slip. These operations seemed to be very interesting to the persons aboard the British freighters which have dropped anchor off the Deutschland's pier during the last day or so. A dozen men on the stern of each of the ships, the highway and the Andrye took turns at using a pair of marine glasses. At dark they still were watching the submarine.

Official Report
in Spannall Case
Clears Butler

San Antonio, Texas, July 26.—The official report on the killing of Col. M. C. Butler at Alpine, Texas, last week by Harry Spannall completely clears the name of the dead officer.

The report, transmitted to General Funston today by Col. J. A. Gaston, district commander, with headquarters at Marfa, says that Colonel Butler was aware that Spannall was jealous of his wife and took care never to be with her except when others were present.

The immediate incident that led to the killing of the colonel and Mrs. Spannall is described in the report. Colonel Gaston, who hurried to Alpine immediately following word of the shooting, says that Colonel and Mrs. Butler and Mr. and Mrs. Spannall had gone to the home of a friend who was ill and on their return to the hotel, where all lived, it was suggested that every one as a precaution should wash their hands.

Colonel Gaston says that shortly after this, Spannall went to the Butlers' room and finding apparently only Colonel Butler and Mrs. Spannall there began to upbraid his wife. At this point, however, Mrs. Butler came out into the bath room, and pointed out to him that she was one of the party.

Soon after Spannall took the colonel and Mrs. Spannall on the ride that ended in their being killed.

FARM YIELDS GROW

Prof. G. I. Christie, superintendent of agricultural extension work, Purdue University, and one of the leading men in agricultural work today.

"Agriculture is the great business and industry of our country and our farms must be brought to a high state of productivity to meet the demands of the rapidly increasing population. A few years ago the yields of wheat in Germany and England were lower than in the United States, but through fertilization and a better crop system they have gradually increased their yields until they now average about 36 bushels per acre as compared with 14.3 bushels per acre in this country," said Prof. G. I. Christie, of Purdue University, at the National Fertilizer Association convention at Hot Springs, Va. "On the farm of Purdue University, where conditions are similar to those of a large area of wheat lands, we get twice as much as the average through a good rotation of crops and proper fertilization."

Professor Christie told how 238 farmers in Indiana grew five acres of corn each last year that produced an average yield of 72.4 bushels per acre—twice as much as the average yield in Indiana. With the higher yields the cost per bushel decreased, making a greater profit per bushel and a much larger profit per acre. He pointed out that it is a problem of industrial efficiency as well as social co-operation to bring about comfortable homes, the best of schools, munity churches, community centers, good roads and a more permanent and satisfying social life. Today there is but little new farming territory and the necessity is that greater yields be obtained from lands now under cultivation.

Danish West Indies
Expected to Be Helped by Change

St. Thomas, D. W. I., July 26.—Nothing is known here officially concerning the probable purchase of the Danish West Indies by the United States from Denmark, but the news that negotiations for the transfer of the islands have virtually been completed caused no surprise, persistent rumors of the probable transfer of the islands having been received of late.

Probably due to the reluctance of Danish capitalists to invest more money for improving and maintaining the islands, conditions have been becoming more unsatisfactory. St. Thomas is threatened with bankruptcy, the harbor trade, its principal support, being almost dead. St. Croix is facing a social revolution following agitation by laborers for higher wages and better living conditions.

Public sentiment in St. Thomas is divided over the question of the transfer of the islands, the lower classes of the people being the more desirous for a change.

St. Croix stands to benefit more than any of the islands by the sale. It is purely agricultural and the planters there are very desirous that it be brought under the American flag. The island of St. John also expects to benefit agriculturally.

Expedition Enjoys Life.

Headquarters Punitive Expedition, Mexico, July 26.—Fifteen hundred officers and men of the punitive expedition jammed into a makeshift arena last night to watch by starlight thirty-six rounds of lustrous boxing by regimental champions. In the midst of the program a negro quartet announced from the darkness of the arena that they wanted to sing between bouts. Whereupon, "Dixie," "Zilly," "The Flag" and familiar airs were heard under the Mexican stars.

PROTEST PREPARED
AGAINST BLACKLIST

Washington, July 26.—President Wilson and state department officials practically have completed preparation of a protest against the promulgation of a blacklist of American firms under the British trading with the enemy act. It was said today that the communication would be sent to London in the near future, probably within the next few days. It will discuss the principles involved and will not interfere with the continuance of informal discussions between representatives of the two governments over the cases of individual firms included in the blacklist.

State department officials believe that their study of the blacklist clearly has proved that it injures American firms in violation of international law. Acting Secretary Polk talked over with President Wilson today facts laid before him by the firms affected and the precedents on which the United States will act.

When the principles involved are taken up with the British government it is expected issue will be taken also with France, Russia and Italy. It is indicated here in announcing its blacklist Great Britain really acted in deference to her allies, who felt that their own merchants were suffering and some British merchants were profiting through the failure of the London government to follow the lead of the continental powers.

New York Police
Showing Up Bad

New York, July 26.—One of New York's deputy police commissioners was named today by a witness in District Attorney Swann's investigation of the "vice squad." Seven policemen already have been indicted upon evidence supplied by underworld characters.

District Attorney Swann declared tonight he expected even more sensational revelations.

The name of the deputy police commissioner was dragged into the case by Max Turkowitz, known to his intimates as Max Pimple, a former "stool pigeon" for Detective William Enright, indicted commissioner of the "vice squad." Turkowitz made an affidavit that while employed by Enright he collected tribute from keepers of questionable resorts. He was arrested late last June on a charge of extortion.

Two days later he was visited in jail by Detective David J. Foley, a co-worker with Enright, and also under indictment. In his affidavit Turkowitz quoted Foley as having said to Commissioner Enright: "I want you to let me be allowed to testify for you as a witness and he commissioner said, 'Yes. Do you need more money?' 'No.' 'Well, keep your mouth shut. Enright and I will testify for you and we'll have the complainants held for perjury—the deputy commissioner said we could do it.'"

Turkowitz pleaded guilty to the extortion charge late today and was released on a suspended sentence.

Another witness who appeared before the district attorney was a married woman whose character was declared by Mr. Swann to be above reproach. She testified that Enright had her arrested on a "framed up" charge after she had rebuffed his attentions.

Another source of revenue devised by Enright, the district attorney said, was to give dances to which keepers of the house recently resorts were forced to buy tickets. Free tickets were given to department store girls who attended innocently, the district attorney has been informed and there became the prey of "white slavers."

Plan Conferences on Naval Bill.

Washington, July 26.—President Wilson will begin a series of conferences tomorrow with members of the house committee in an effort to secure acceptance by house conferees of the big building program put into the naval bill by the senate. It is understood he will exercise all his influence to overcome opposition to the enormous senate increases.

Chairman Padgett and Representatives Talbot and Estep, ranking majority members of the committee, were summoned today to talk over the subject with the president tomorrow morning before the house meets to elect its conferees. Later Mr. Wilson will see other committee members, republicans as well as democrats.

Split in W. O. W.

Denver, Colo., July 26.—A report of the committee on relations to the foreign camp that all financial relations with that organization be cancelled was unanimously adopted today at the head camp session of the Woodmen of the World, Pacific jurisdiction. This action, it was announced, means complete divorce from the sovereign camp, with which fraternal but no financial relations had existed, and the incorporation of an independent insurance society to be called Woodmen of the World. A new ritual is to be adopted.

Opening Mexican Mines.

Mexico City, July 26.—The mines in the states of Sonora, Mexico, Michacan and Hidalgo have resumed work, having received supplies of explosives since the ban on their shipment was raised. According to information received from Chihuahua, Francisco Villa, the bandit chief, is in a crippled condition as a result of wounds received during fights some time ago near Ciudad Guerrero.

Speaks Tonight to Working Boys' club

Charles S. Davis, English professor of Waco high school, will address the members of the Working Boys' club at their regular meeting tonight. Professor Davis' subject will be different from most of the addresses which have been delivered at the club. He will speak on the benefit of good literature, and also tell a story.

Members of the club will also hold their regular debate. This feature of the program is always interesting and proves to be a surprise, as most of the boys are well up on their subjects and very good extempore speakers. The public is invited to attend these meetings at any time.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS.

Dr. J. B. Gambrell of Dallas will preach Sunday morning and night at the Provident Heights Baptist church. The Liggett & Myers Tobacco company filed suit for debt against C. H. Cox & Co. in the Seventy-fourth district court yesterday.

County Superintendent R. L. Abbott has called a meeting of the county school trustees in Waco for August 7, in connection with the regular meeting of the county school board. The following pleas of guilty were received in the county court yesterday: Mack Jones, theft; L. Randall, theft; Ike Jones, theft; Ed Thornton, theft.

The Waco Baptist association begins its fifth Sunday meeting at Ross tonight. As shown previously, there is a fine program mapped out for this gathering, and evangelism of the unsaved is the keynote of the session.

Honorably Discharged

After nearly three months spent on the Mexican border with the Texas national guard, doing patrol duty, I am now back home and at my place of business—the Southland Barber Shop, 602 Austin avenue.

I received an honorable discharge through the recent ruling of Secretary of War Baker, relative to the dismissal of men of family and business interests.

I beg to express my sincere appreciation of the patronage accorded my shop during my absence by the citizens of Waco and vicinity. The fact that this patronage has been so good indicates that my customers were accorded the same courteous and efficient service by my barbers as when I was present.

To my friends, may I say that I have quite a collection of snap-shot pictures taken of various camp and border scenes. These will be on exhibition in the window of my shop.

STRONG REPORT BY JUDGE J. H. TEAGUE

REMARKABLE VANASOTA CASE
GETS INTO PRINT—VITALITAS WAS EMPLOYED.

Judge J. H. Teague, a prominent jurist known throughout Texas for half a century, furnishes a report of much interest relative to Vitalitas. In it Judge Teague says:

"This is to certify that in October, 1906, I became afflicted with muscular rheumatism; was compelled to take to my bed for more than five years. I suffered untold pain. I tried everything known to the medical fraternity for relief, visited the hot wells of Marlin for relief, but received but little. I had almost given up in despair when I consented to try Vitalitas. After taking two bottles I began to experience relief and so continued until today I am as free from pain as any one of my age in Texas. I am in my 72nd year and as spry as most men at 50. I cheerfully recommend this great remedy to all suffering from rheumatism, believing as I do that if taken as directed, a permanent cure will be the result."

Not only for rheumatism is Vitalitas effective, but also for indigestion, biliousness, nervous debility, etc.

Gas Interferes With Recovery of Victims

Cleveland, July 26.—The bodies of the eleven men entombed in the West Side waterworks tunnel may not be recovered for a week, as a result of investigations today which disclosed that gas continues to pour into the tunnel and that there is great danger of a second explosion wrecking the tunnel and the outer crib.

Gustav C. Van Dusen, superintendent of waterworks construction, who is recovering from the effects of his trip through a rescue party into the tunnel Tuesday, declared in a statement today that the electrical equipment in the crib No. 5 section of the tunnel was responsible for the first explosion.

C. B. BROWN OF U. S. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MAKES ADDRESS HERE

Local Commercial Leaders Honor Visitor With Luncheon—Delighted at His Talk.

The visit to Waco yesterday of C. B. Brown, chief of the organization department, United States Chamber of Commerce, Washington, D. C., and his address to directors of the Chamber of Commerce, proved one of the most instructive and interesting visits and addresses ever delivered in the rooms of the Waco organization, and those directors who were absent certainly missed a real treat, something inspirational and instructive.

Mr. Brown had been to Corpus Christi on the Texas coast for a fishing trip, having listened to the lure of the tricky tarpon, and after leaving there was induced to stop at Houston and Waco, these two places being the only ones in Texas which were fortunate enough to secure him; he was first invited by Secretary E. F. Drake of the Chamber of Commerce, and was inclined to come, and when in this mood a timely and telling telegram from President J. M. Penland of the Chamber of Commerce dispelled his hesitation and caused him to throw off the Hamlet attitude and make a full decision to visit Waco.

In the organization work in which he is engaged Mr. Brown has visited thirteen foreign countries, as ambassador from the United States Chamber of Commerce, so designated by President Wilson, this securing him full entry into all the charmed circles of rulers, cabinets, chief officials and all that. He also has in the last five years visited every state in the United States on the same mission, which is that of organization.

In Europe the Imperial Council, which is the commercial club, wrote the tariff law, and all the commercial clubs of Europe are affiliated with the government and take part in all matters affecting the business interests of the country. Former President W. H. Taft, realizing that this was one country not having such an organization, looked after its commercial interests as a whole, conceived the United States Chamber of Commerce. The benefits already derived have far more than justified all expectations, and its work appears to be in its infancy.

At the meeting yesterday morning at the Chamber of Commerce Mr. Brown discussed the value of commercial organizations; committee work as the basis principle for all commercial organizations, and he dwelt at length on our South American relations commercially, emphasizing the banking conditions as well as the methods employed by representatives of firms and factories of the United States in trying to do business, mentioning the mistakes which are being made and which have been in our way down there, but which are in some cases now being corrected.

The entire address was full of instruction, of suggestions, and of good thought along many lines. The directors who with President J. M. Penland heard the address were simply delighted, and the regret was that every man in the city could not have heard it.

Harry M. Baine stated that the remarks made by Mr. Brown were indeed appreciated by the directors, and that the efficiency of a commercial club since the Waco Chamber of Commerce had recently adopted the committee plan as a basic principle of organization, and he offered a resolution thanking Mr. Brown for his visit to Waco and this was heartily endorsed.

The address of Mr. Brown was followed by a luncheon at the Raleigh hotel, at which the following were present: J. M. Penland, W. G. Lacy, Harry M. Baine, J. R. Milam, J. B. Earle, R. J. Windrow, Sam Hanna, W. W. Cameron, R. J. Fellow, H. D. Russell and E. F. Drake.

Mr. Brown was hurrying back to Washington to meet business engagements, and it was considered a fortunate stroke that Waco secured him.

SUBMARINE LINER CLEARS FOR ANY PORT IN GERMANY

The Deutschland, the engines were tested again, and again and twice the vessel was submerged until her keel rested on the bottom in her slip. These operations seemed to be very interesting to persons aboard two British freighters which have dropped anchor off the Deutschland's pier during the last day or so. A dozen men on the stern of each of the ships, the highway and the Ardgyfe, took turns at using several pairs of marine glass- es. At dark they still were watching the submarine.

Official Report in Spannell Case Clears Butler

San Antonio, Texas, July 26.—The official report on the killing of Col. M. C. Butler at Alpine, Texas, last week by Harry Spannell, completely clears the name of the dead officer.

The report, transmitted to General Funston today by Col. J. A. Gaston, district commander, with headquarters at Marfa, says that Colonel Butler was aware that Spannell was jealous of his wife and took care never to be with her except when others were present.

The immediate incident that led to the killing of the colonel and Mrs. Spannell is described in the report. Colonel Gaston, who hurried to Alpine immediately following word of the shooting, says that Colonel and Mrs. Butler and Mr. and Mrs. Spannell had gone to the hotel of a friend who was ill and on their return to the hotel, where all lived, it was suggested that every one as a precaution should wash their hands.

Colonel Gaston says that shortly after this, Spannell went to the Butler's room and finding apparently only Colonel Butler and Mrs. Spannell there began to upbraid his wife. At this point, however, Mrs. Butler came out of the room, and pointed out to him that she was one of the party.

Soon after Spannell took the colonel and Mrs. Spannell on the ride that ended in their being killed.

FARM YIELDS GROW

Prof. G. I. Christie, superintendent of agricultural extension work, Purdue University, and one of the leading men in agricultural work today.

"Agriculture is the great business and industry of our country and our farms must be brought to a high state of productivity to meet the demands of the rapidly increasing population. A few years ago the yields of wheat in Germany and England were lower than in the United States, but through fertilization and a better crop system they have gradually increased their yields until they now average about 36 bushels per acre as compared with 14.8 bushels per acre in this country," said Prof. G. I. Christie, of Purdue University, at the National Fertilizer Association convention at Hot Springs, Va., where conditions are similar to those of a large area of wheat lands, we get twice as much as the average through a good rotation of crops and proper fertilization.

Professor Christie told how 238 farmers in Indiana grew five acres of corn each last year that produced an average yield of 72.4 bushels per acre—twice as much as the average yield in Indiana. With the higher yields, the cost per bushel decreased, making a greater profit per bushel and a much larger profit per acre. He pointed out that it is a problem of industrial efficiency as well as social co-operation to bring about comfortable homes, the best of schools, community churches, community centers, good roads and a more permanent and satisfying social life. Today there is but little new farming territory and the necessity is that greater yields be obtained from lands now under cultivation.

Danish West Indies Expected to Be Helped by Change

St. Thomas, D. W. I., July 26.—Nothing is known here officially concerning the probable purchase of the Danish West Indies by the United States from Denmark, but the news that negotiations for the transfer of the islands have virtually been completed caused surprise, persistent rumors of the probable transfer of the islands having been received of late.

Probably due to the reluctance of Danish capitalists to invest money for improving the islands, the island conditions lately have been becoming more unsatisfactory. St. Thomas is threatened with bankruptcy, the harbor trade, its principal support, being almost dead. St. Croix is facing a social revolution, following agitation by laborers for higher wages and better living conditions.

Public sentiment in St. Thomas is divided over the question of the transfer of the islands, the lower classes of the people being the more desirous for a change. St. Croix stands to benefit more than any of the islands by the sale. It is purely agricultural and the planters there are very desirous that it be brought under the American flag. The island of St. John also expects to benefit agriculturally.

Expedition Enjoys Life. Headquarters Punitive Expedition, Mexico, July 26.—Fifteen hundred officers and men of the punitive expedition jammed into a makeshift archaic last night to watch by starlight thirty-six rounds of lusty boxing by regimental champions. In the midst of the program a negro quartet announced from the darkness of the arena that they wanted to sing between bouts, whereupon "Dixie," "Zilly," "The Flag" and familiar airs were heard under the Mexican stars.

Turkowitz pleaded guilty to the extortion charge late today and was released on a suspended sentence.

Dr. J. B. Gambrell of Dallas will preach Sunday morning and night at the Protestant Heights Baptist church. The Liggett & Myers Tobacco company filed suit for debt against C. H. Cox & Co. in the Seventy-fourth district court yesterday.

County Superintendent R. L. Abbott has called a meeting of the county school trustees in Waco for August 7, in connection with the regular meeting of the county school board.

The following pleas of guilty were received in the county court yesterday: Mack Jones, theft; L. Randall, pistol; Ike Jones, theft; Ed Thornton, theft.

The Waco Baptist association begins its fifth Sunday meeting at Ross tonight. As shown previously, there is a fine program mapped out for this gathering, and evangelism of the unsaved is the keynote of the session.

There will be a number present from Waco.

Matters are getting to be a little more normal after the primary, but the minds of some still cling to the contest. With the national elections out of the way in November it is believed that business will have more of an inning than it has had in some time. The Chamber of Commerce will likely be "in on the ground floor" in a short time. The building which has been used by the Texas Telephone company on North Fifth street between Austin and Washington streets is to be remodeled for the use of the Waco Senior Commercial club and it will make a fine place for the regular gatherings.

The Waco railroad city ticket offices still report a good travel out of this section for various resorts, some of them in Texas and some of them out, but most of those who are going are expecting to stay only a short time now, as everybody anticipates an active business this fall.

A GOOD LOSER.

Realizing that he has failed to be one of the two high men in the race for United States senator, Dr. S. P. Brooks of Waco has written letters of congratulation to former Gov. O. B. Colquitt and Senator C. A. Culberson, the two men who will be voted on at the run-off primary.

Practically unknown, save as an educator, and with no political experience, Dr. Brooks made a race of which he can well be proud, receiving more votes than candidates who have been in the political game for years. Dr. Brooks also proves himself a good loser by congratulating his successful opponents as soon as the result seems settled.

The South may not shine as a summer resort, but the soldier boys from Iowa who passed through yesterday on their way to the border escaped a heat wave that struck their state yesterday, the mercury soaring to 108 in Ottumwa, 103 at Burlington and 102 at Clinton. On the other hand, it was fairly cool in Waco all day long. But wait till they get to the border and it will seem like "home" was yesterday.

Congressman Burgess recalled his senatorial announcement and ran for re-election after a string of candidates were off in the race to succeed him. He joins Congressmen Henry, Smith, Stephens and Callaway in the procession moving toward private life. Moral: one bird in the hand is worth six eagles in the bush.

Guy Johnson, one of General Pershing's best scouts, pleads guilty to being Guy Hartman, alleged moonshiner, who jumped his bond last year. Hartman says he is ready to return and face trial, but it would be a hard-hearted jury, indeed, that would send to jail such a hero as Hartman has proved himself to be.

The president's request for the passage of the child labor bill at the present session of congress will be heeded, and this long deferred reform will soon be in motion. Score again for an administration which is more fruitful in achievement than it was in promises.

The republicans are justly proud of the attacks of Colquitt on the national administration, but they will not be able to exploit them in the doubtful states as the views of a democratic nominee for the United States senate.

Morris' announcement that he will be a candidate again in 1918 does not interest Governor Ferguson. Two terms of trial, trouble and tax disturbance cause the stoutest heart to yearn for peace.

Southern states will get about $850,000 of the federal road appropriation, and of this $300,000 will come to Texas. McLennan county has shown its appreciation of good roads, and is ready to furnish larger proof of their value.

The Dallas News was a potent factor in the passage of the Robertson law, and attacked its opponents. Now it laments the vote which perpetuates that law. Even newspapers sometimes make mistakes.

Prohibitionists will have a good working majority in both houses of the legislature, and it is not impossible that the adding machine which counts out submission may count in statutory prohibition.

Garrett and McLemore ran almost neck and neck for congressman-at-large, as did Cyclone Davis and Hugh Fitzgerald. Isn't that carrying the doctrine of comity to its uttermost limit?

Several women were nominated for county officers in the late primary. It is a queer paradox which assumes that woman is qualified to hold an office but not to choose the officer.

El Paso's vote on submission is not given out, but if you can guess the majority required to defeat submission you can make a pretty fair guess at the majority it will record against it.

Waco banks have given notice to government authorities that they will advance 6 per cent money for holding cotton. Waco sets the pace in all that relates to cotton.

Turkey's offer to send troops to Europe is heroic, but untimely. She will have more than she can attend to when the Bear seizes her tail feathers.

Come across, El Paso. You are being watched.

RURAL SCHOOLS ARE FARMERS' PROBLEM

PRESIDENT JOHN GORHAM OF WACO ADDRESSES FARMERS' CONGRESS AT AUSTIN.

Advices Issuance of Long Term Bonds With Low Interest Rate to Secure Adequate Buildings.

Austin, July 26.—The following address to the Farmers' congress was delivered tonight by the president, John Gorham, of Waco:

Fellow Farmers and Co-workers From the Many Busy Channels of Life: I am glad to greet you who are here present at the opening session of the nineteenth session of the Texas Farmers' congress, also those who are present here are interested in the up-building of the agricultural interest of Texas, and that includes every business man and woman in all Texas.

My address shall be brief and my suggestions few that I shall present to your honorable body for consideration at this meeting.

First and foremost, I present to you for your careful and thoughtful consideration the condition of our "rural schools," for it is an undisputed fact that no people have ever risen above and few up to their educational opportunities and facilities; that the standard and interest in and for our rural schools is low, very low, in comparison with the problems already confronting us and are increasing daily; that the people must solve, or all not only Texas but our nation will suffer.

Now, in order to overcome the difficulties and properly solve the problems that confront us, there must be a well-trained and well-developed mind back of it, and that mind must receive its first work in adequate schools; for it is an undisputed fact that no people have ever risen above and few up to their educational opportunities and facilities; that the standard and interest in and for our rural schools is low, very low, in comparison with the problems already confronting us and are increasing daily; that the people must solve, or all not only Texas but our nation will suffer.

Our teachers should have a knowledge of and in hearty sympathy with agriculture and be well prepared and fitted to teach agriculture from a scientific and economical standpoint, for without these qualifications he or she is totally unfit to teach even the primary class in any rural school, and should not be permitted to do so. Preparedness and efficiency for teachers in our rural schools should be the watchword.

Our agricultural department, both national and state, have done and are doing a great work among our people, yet it is not what it should be. There are practically three divisions emanating from these different heads and in these divisions there is more or less jealousy, envy, dissension and lack of co-operation, which is very hurtful to all and without a remedy will destroy the usefulness of all.

Consolidation of all of this work should be consolidated into one and under one head and management; also that this head should be at and through the Agricultural and Mechanical college of Texas, and that no one should be employed or sent out under this head or management who was not thoroughly qualified and fitted both by education and experience to properly advise and instruct our people along the lines of real helpful and progressive agriculture and to be able to do this he or she must be one who knows things by performance before they can impress upon our people to do this which they are advising; that while our people are in a way largely uneducated in a literary way, they are fairly practical both from necessity and experience, and what we need most of all is information from a scientific standpoint in regard to all soils and plant life in order that we may apply them in our practice and solve some of the great problems that confront us.

Along this same line, the directors of our Agricultural and Mechanical college should be composed of at least 75 per cent practical farmers actively engaged in this work and living on their farms, and I believe we should forthwith effort and means possible to have such a board of directors. I find and know that the brain and manhood of our commercial centers are very much interested in agriculture and are giving of their time and means in order to improve and better the agricultural condition of our state. In doing this their wisdom and business sagacity is well defined and they are in the right direction, for our interest is mutual and no power on earth can make it otherwise, and may I earnestly urge that our people most very best advantage possible in order that their time and money may not be misspent and wasted. They want to do; they are going to do; they want information, they need information and this they must have and get from their fellow farmer. There is no other source under the sun whereby this needed information can be obtained, you are the sole possessors of this needed information. We need to cultivate co-operation more among our own people and we must do so with our commercial centers or suffer irretrievable loss.

Likewise with the press, who have always been exceedingly kind and indulgent to our people, ever ready to publish any and everything that they believe will be helpful and benefit our people; they are anxious to come in touch with you, to know your wants and needs. You alone can supply this information. Will you give it to them? Will you invite them to your homes on your farms? Let us do this and come in touch with this great medium and channel through which co-operation more and more especially is this true of what is termed agricultural journals. Brother editor, you need to come more in touch with the great facts of life. You need to invite him more into your private office, in private council, you need to spend more time in our homes, on our farms, in our private councils, and there in private council learn some things you do not know and better fit yourselves for this great work that you are engaged in. Then you will be better equipped to advise and counsel our people more intelligently and with more profit and less waste to our people and more honor, glory and profit in your own business.

I would not have you understand me that agriculture should be taught in our rural schools only, for I believe that it should be taught in every school in Texas, be it a primary school or university, for whether the student expects to be a farmer or a banker or a lawyer or a doctor, he should have a defined idea and knowledge of agriculture, for no business is well equipped without that knowledge.

These I believe are the fundamental truths and facts which concern our people most and upon which foundation we must build if we would build well and wisely. Therefore, I submit them to you for your careful consideration and may I say at what time and way you may in your wisdom deem best.

Farmers Offered 6 Per Cent Money. Austin, July 26.—Manager F. C. Wier of the warehouse and marketing department, as chairman of the banking committee, has received a letter from D. E. Waggoner, president of the Security National bank of Dallas, in which he says his bank will be prepared to loan $5,000,000 at 6 per cent on bonded warehouse receipts.

George W. Riddle, president of the First State bank of Dallas, writes that his bank will handle bonded warehouse receipts at 6 per cent and this includes a chain of associate banks at interior points.

All the national banks at Waco have agreed to advance 6 per cent money for holding cotton, as have a number of other banks at interior points.

The farmers of the state will have an opportunity to hold their cotton and market it gradually at a cheap rate of interest and the activity now being displayed in organizing bonded warehousing under the warehouse and marketing law is evidenced by the many warehouses which are erected before the coming cotton season opens.

Biddies in Heart of Texas Lay 26 Million Dozen Eggs Yearly; Milk Value Is Next to Cotton

For every bale of cotton raised within a radius of 100 miles of Waco there are thirteen dozen eggs produced, which is undoubtedly a very creditable record for biddies when it is considered that she is competing against the almost absolute monarch of this section. There are sufficient hens in this area populated by 1,355,551 inhabitants to lay eggs so that every man, woman and child can have one egg each day in the year, if blue Mondays are excepted. If the hens during the past year had been in the tournament, "six days should thou labor," there would have been approximately one egg each day in the 365 for each inhabitant. These figures are not a supposition but are based on a compilation of the farm products within a 100 mile radius of Waco made by the Chamber of Commerce of this city.

There were 2,082,110 bales of cotton produced in this area which were valued at $104,105,501. The poultry, eggs and turkeys produced in this section for the same period are valued at nearly ten millions of dollars. Of all the product values tabulated, the milk produced was second to the value of cotton, being valued at more than $29,000,000. The value of the dairy cows themselves came next. The milk produced was worth over $2,000,000 more than the cows which produced it.

The million turkeys were worth approximately as many dollars. The humble peanut is responsible for over $2,000,000 added to the sum total of value in this heart of Texas area. Horses, swine, beef cattle, mules, each are valued at more than either the corn or oat crop.

The total value of the farm products in this great circle reaches the stupendous sum of $289,815,657. Following is the table of products and their values in detail:

Total population and farm products within 100 mile radius of Waco:	No.	Value

Railroad President's Death Learned With Regret in Waco

It was with deep and sincere regret that news was received in Waco yesterday by employees and officials of the Cotton Belt railroad that President P. H. Britton died in St. Louis at 9 o'clock in the morning.

President Britton was popular not only in Waco, but all over the line of which he was the head, and the men all loved him. He was here about a month ago on his last tour of inspection. He began his work with the Cotton Belt, or St. Louis and Southern, at Tyler, and his progress up the railroad ladder was marked by hard and intelligent work and close attention to business. City Passenger Agent W. S. Gillespie and many of the other local officials yesterday afternoon expressed deep regret over news of his death.

President Britton leaves two sons and two daughters, one of the sons being the commercial agent of the Cotton Belt at Texarkana and the other an attorney in St. Louis. It was understood yesterday that the funeral would take place Friday.

Mrs. J. W. Byars Will Speak for Orphans

Mrs. J. W. Byars left yesterday for Fort Stockton, in the western part of the state, where the country is sparsely settled, the object of her trip being to make a talk in behalf of Buckner Orphans' Home.

Mrs. Byars is doing a really great work in behalf of this home, and is thoroughly conversant with its needs and its work. She speaks from practical actual knowledge of the conditions, and always enlists aid wherever she goes. She is doing much field work in this connection.

Quite a lot of traveling is done by Mrs. Byars in this work, but this is one of the longest trips she has taken recently.

Col. Riche Is Due in Waco This Evening

A telegram received yesterday by W. W. Seely stated that Col. C. S. Riche, formerly in charge of river improvement work in Texas for the federal government, would reach Waco tonight and would make a stop-over in this city.

Colonel Riche is on his way to Chicago, where he has accepted a very responsible federal position, involving large engineering experience and ability, and his many friends here will wish him every success. He is very popular in this city and has always been gladly greeted here. His great and constructive work in behalf of Texas waterways will not soon be forgotten by the people here.

It is not known whether or not Major Johnson, who succeeds Colonel Riche, will also be here tonight.

Girls Leave Waco on Hike Toward Border

Dressed in khaki and with little equipment except a full stock of courage and hope, Miss Blanche Bailey, daughter of Chief of Police R. L. Bailey of West, and Miss Bessie Hannah of Waco started at sundown yesterday from this city on a hike to El Paso, Texas, and then, if the "walking is good," they plan to go on to California.

Miss Bailey is 22 years old and Miss Hannah is 21. They call themselves the girl Mutt and Jeffs. They headed toward Temple on leaving Waco.

The girls say that they are going for "experience." They plan to walk all the way, and feel confident of their ability to make their destination. Neither has taken a long hike before.

The hikers carry a letter of introduction signed by Mayor Dellins and the girl Mutt and Jeffs of this city, and by the officials of West. They plan to make about twenty miles a day.

Cost More to Lose Than Win Place

It cost Frank M. Fitzpatrick $250 to be nominated (floral) representative at Saturday's primaries and G. W. Brown $289 to be defeated for the same office, according to the lists of their campaign expenses, filed with County Judge George N. Denton.

All candidates are given ten days after the primary in which to file their statements. The following statements have been received to date: J. F. Keller, justice of the peace, precinct 8, $18.55; Lon Wortham, county treasurer, $218.40; G. F. Talbert, county commissioner, precinct 4, $50.

Negro Held for Assault. Chief Detective Hall took charge of Morris Harvey, negro, yesterday afternoon and had him transferred to the county jail on a charge of assault with intent to murder. Two More Buyers of Goldstein-Migel Off to Eastern Marts

Going to join the staff of Goldstein-Migel buyers who are already in the east, Fred M. Hirsch and Theo. Stein left Waco yesterday afternoon for New York. Mr. Hirsch will make purchases of fall goods for the several departments of fancy goods and small wares, of which he is manager, and Mr. Stein will purchase for his department, the millinery.

Mr. Hirsch and Mr. Stein will probably be in the East three or four weeks. Both expect to buy very liberally, in anticipation of a busy fall and winter season at the Goldstein-Migel store. The growth of this store has been phenomenal, necessitating their purchases of larger and still larger stocks in all departments each season. The buyers who go to market for the various departments are always on the alert for the very best and latest in their line.

Typical of the success of the Goldstein-Migel store in keeping up to the minute in matters of fashion, is an experience related by a lady who recently returned from New York.

"Before going away," she said the other day, "I went to Goldstein-Migel's for a traveling dress. They showed me quite a number, from which I selected the one I liked best. When I got to New York about a week later, I visited one of the biggest stores, at which a display of new modes in traveling dresses was being made. Imagine my surprise at finding among the models which were heralded as the very latest the identical model which I had purchased a week before at Goldstein-Migel's! Evidently they get their Goldstein-Migel's just as soon as they do in New York."

A GOOD LOSER.

Realizing that he has failed to be one of the two high men in the race for United States senator, Dr. S. P. Brooks of Waco has written letters of congratulation to former Gov. O. B. Colquitt and Senator C. A. Culberson, the two men who will be voted on at the run-off primary.

Practically unknown, save as an educator, and with no political experience, Dr. Brooks made a race of which he can well be proud, receiving more votes than candidates who have been in the political game for years. Dr. Brooks also proves himself a good loser by congratulating his successful opponents as soon as the result seems settled.

The South may not shine as a summer resort, but the soldier boys from Iowa who passed through yesterday on their way to the border escaped a heat wave that struck their state yesterday, the mercury soaring to 105 in Ottumwa, 103 at Burlington and 102 at Clinton. On the other hand, it was fairly cool in Waco all day long. But wait till they get to the border and it will seem like "home" was yesterday.

Congressman Burgess recalled his senatorial announcement and ran for re-election after a string of candidates were off in the race to succeed him. He joins Congressman Henry, Smith, Stephens and Callaway in the procession moving toward private life. Moral: one bird in the hand is worth six eagles in the bush.

Guy Johnson, one of General Pershing's best scouts, pleads guilty to being Guy Hartman, alleged moonshiner, who jumped his bond last year. Hartman says he is ready to return and face trial, but it would be a hard-hearted jury, indeed, that would send to jail such a hero as Hartman has proved himself to be.

The president's request for the passage of the child labor bill at the present session of congress will be heeded, and this long deferred reform will soon be in motion. Score again for administration which is more fruitful in achievement than it was in promises.

The republicans are justly proud of the attacks of Colquitt on the national administration, but they will not be able to exploit them in the doubtful states as the views of a democratic nominee for the United States senate.

Morris' announcement that he will be a candidate again in 1918 does not interest Governor Ferguson. Two terms of trial, trouble and tax disturbance cause the stoutest heart to yearn for peace.

Southern states will get about $550,000 of the federal road appropriation, and of this $360,000 will come to Texas. McLennan county has shown its appreciation of good roads, and is ready to furnish larger proof of their value.

The Dallas News was a potent factor in the passage of the Robertson law, and attacked its opponents. Now it laments the vote which perpetuates that law. Even newspapers sometimes make mistakes.

Prohibitionists will have a good working majority in both houses of the legislature, and it is not impossible that the adding machine which counts out submission may count in statutory prohibition.

Garrett and McLemore ran almost neck and neck for congressman-at-large, as did Cyclone Davis and Hugh Fitzgerald. Isn't that carrying the doctrine of comity to its uttermost limit?

Several women were nominated for county offices in the late primary. It is a queer paradox which assumes that woman is qualified to hold an office but not to choose the officer.

El Paso's vote on submission is not given out, but if you can guess the majority required to defeat submission you can make a pretty fair guess at the majority it will record against it.

Waco banks have given notice to government authorities that they will advance 6 per cent money for holding cotton. Waco sets the pace in all that relates to cotton.

Turkey's offer to send troops to Europe is heroic, but untimely. She will have more than she can attend to when the Bear seizes her tail feathers.

Come across, El Paso. You are being watched.

RURAL SCHOOLS ARE FARMERS' PROBLEM

PRESIDENT JOHN GORHAM OF WACO ADDRESSES FARMERS' CONGRESS AT AUSTIN.

Advise Issuance of Long Term Bonds With Low Interest Rate To Secure Adequate Buildings.

Austin, July 26.—The following address to the Farmers' congress was delivered tonight by the president, John Gorham, of Waco:
Fellow Farmers and Co-workers From the Many Busy Channels of Life:
I am glad to greet you who are here present at the opening session of the nineteenth session of the Texas Farmers' congress, also those who are not present but are interested in the up-building of the agricultural interest of Texas, and that includes every business man and woman in all Texas.

My address shall be brief and my suggestions few that I shall present to your honorable body for consideration at this meeting.

First and foremost, I present to you for your careful and thoughtful consideration the condition of our "rural schools," for it is an undisputed fact that no people have ever risen above and few up to their educational opportunities and facilities; that the standard and interest in and for our rural schools is low, very low, in comparison with the problems already confronting us and are increasing daily; that the people must solve, or all, not only Texas but our nation, will suffer.

Now, in order to overcome the difficulties and properly solve the problems that confront us, there must be a well-trained and well-developed mind back of it, and that mind must receive its first work in our public schools, hence our public schools, and I am speaking specifically of our rural schools, should be second to none on the face of the globe. And why shouldn't they be first of all? Are not our natural endowments greater than all the rest? Does not our calling, agriculture, demand the best prepared minds that it is possible to have? Since it is an undisputed fact that agriculture is the foundation of every other interest that is at all worth while, and this true and with fifty years of rural life and experience, I believe it to be, then I contend that every school district in Texas should have an adequate school building, properly equipped and in keeping with the modern made up same. Our daughters and sons should receive all of their high school education in the rural schools and in a building where there is comfort and conveniences such as will create within her and him an interest to do greater things for his section and his people.

There is but one way to erect these buildings and that is with bond issue, long term bonds, low interest rate and a nominal tax for the upkeep and maintenance of same.

Our teachers should have a knowledge of and in hearty sympathy with agriculture and be well prepared and fitted to teach agriculture from a scientific and economical standpoint, for without these qualifications he or she is totally unfit to teach even the primary class in any rural school, and should not be permitted to do so. Preparedness and efficiency for teachers in our rural schools should be the watchword.

Our agricultural department, both national and state, have done and are doing a great work among our people, yet it is not what it should be. There are practically three different heads and in these divisions there is more or less petty jealousies, envy, dissension and lack of co-operation, which is very hurtful to all and without a remedy will destroy the usefulness of all. All of this work should be consolidated into one and under one head and management; also that this head should be at and through the Agricultural & Mechanical college of Texas, and that no one should be employed or sent out under this head or management who was not thoroughly qualified and fitted both by education and experience to properly advise and instruct our people along the lines of real helpful and progressive agriculture and to be able to do this he or she must be one who knows things by performance before they can impress upon our people to do that which they are advising; that while our people are in a way ready, they are fairly practical both from necessity and experience, and what we need most of all is information from a scientific standpoint in regard to our soils and plant life in order that we may apply them in our practice and solve some of the great problems that confront us.

In doing this their wisdom and business sagacity is well defined and rightly so in the right direction, for our interest is mutual and no power on earth can make it otherwise, and may I earnestly urge that our people most heartily co-operate with them to their very best advantage possible in order that their time and money may not be misspent and wasted. They want to do; they are going to do; they want information; they need information; and this they must have and get from you, fellow farmer. There is no other source under the sun whereby this needed information can be obtained. You are the sole possessors of this needed information. We need to cultivate co-operation more among our own people and we must do so with our commercial centers or suffer irretrievable loss.

Likewise with the press, who have always been exceedingly kind and indulgent to our people, ever ready to publish any and everything that they believe will be helpful and benefit our people; they are anxious to come in touch with you, to know your wants and needs. You alone can supply this information. Will you give it to them? Will you invite them to your homes on your farms? Let us do this and come in touch more with this great medium and channel through which education, co-operation, the upbuilding of our interest largely must come, and more especially is this true of what is termed agricultural journals. Brother editor, you need to come more in touch with the real farmer. You need to invite him more into your private office, in private council, you

REAGAN WOMEN IN SPECIAL MEETING

ONLY PRECINCT CANDIDATES NEED SECOND PRIMARY IN FALLS COUNTY.

Mart Business Man Making Arrangements to Open New Retail Store in Marlin Business Center.

Marlin, July 26.—The second primary is unnecessary in Falls county, so far as county officers are concerned, but two offices in precinct 1 are still in doubt. Judge D. H. Boyles and W. S. Smith received the highest numbers of votes cast for justice of the peace, but neither received a majority vote, while Henry T. Barton and Alex R. Scheef will be in the second primary for commissioner in the same precinct.

The ladies of the Reagan Baptist church have arranged the following program for July 27 at 2:30 p. m. when the meeting will be called to order by Mrs. Mary Hair. After devotional services by D. E. Waggoner, president of the church, Mrs. E. S. Curry, Mrs. E. S. Singer will speak on the "Value of Organization in Woman's Work." "The Aims and Purposes of the Y. W. A." will be explained by Miss Maggie Nunnally, while Mrs. E. C. Curry will enlarge on "Our Immediate Task in Falls County."

D. C. Perkins of Mart has leased the Quaid building on Live Oak street, and will open a new store in this city as soon as he can complete all arrangements. Mr. Perkins will continue his present business in Mart in connection with the Marlin store.

The following have been appointed jury commissioners to draw the grand and petit jurors for the next term of court by Judge Munroe: A. C. Heinke, Judge A. S. Allison and J. L. Keeling of Marlin.

The Woman's Christian Temperance union met at the residence of Mrs. A. C. Connelly this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Encouraging reports were made of work now being accomplished by the union.

Commissary Sergeant Emmett Hunnicutt is home on a leave of absence from company F at Mercedes. He reports the Marlin boys as being happy but homesick.

Warren W. Hunt, official stenographer in the district court, returned to Waco today, his duties in the court being completed for the June term.

Cotton Shipped From Eddy. Eddy, July 26.—Eighty-three bales of cotton were shipped from here today by Roming Bros. through W. J. Shillings. Price paid was 13.30 cents, basis middling.

Railroad President's Death Learned With Regret in Waco. It was with deep and sincere regret that news was received in Waco yesterday by employees and officials of the Cotton Belt railroad that President F. H. Britton died in St. Louis at 9 o'clock in the morning.

President Britton was popular not only in Waco, but all over the line of which he was the head, and the men all loved him. He was here about a month ago on his last tour of inspection. A few days work with the Cotton Belt, or St. Louis Southwestern, at Tyler, and his progress up the railroad ladder was marked by hard and intelligent work and close attention to business. City Passenger Agent W. S. Gillespie and many of the other local officials yesterday afternoon expressed deep regret over news of his death.

President Britton leaves two sons and two daughters, one of the sons being the commercial agent of the Cotton Belt at Texarkana and the other an attorney in St. Louis. It was understood yesterday that the funeral would take place Friday.

Waco Newspaperman Goes to Fort Worth

C. C. Brown, who has been connected with the editorial staff of the Morning News for the last two years and a half, leaves this morning for Fort Worth to accept the position of chief telegraph editor of the Record. Mr. Brown has for several months past held the responsible position of news editor, previous to this he was city editor after having served for some time as reporter. During his experience as a newspaper man he has been connected with the staffs of leading dailies in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. He will be succeeded by E. G. Atlee of Marlin. During his connection with The News Mr. Brown has made many friends among the business and professional men of Waco. The best wishes of these go with him in his new work.

Mrs. J. W. Byars Will Speak for Orphans

Mrs. J. W. Byars left yesterday for Fort Stockton, in the western part of the state, where the country is sparsely settled, the object of her trip being to make a talk in behalf of Buckner Orphans' Home.

Mrs. Byars is doing a really great work in behalf of this home, and is thoroughly conversant with its needs and its work. She speaks from practical knowledge of the conditions, and always enlists aid wherever she goes. She is doing much field work in this connection.

Quite a lot of traveling is done by Mrs. Byars in this work, but this is one of the longest trips she has taken recently.

Col. Riche Is Due in Waco This Evening

A telegram received yesterday by W. W. Selig stated that Col. C. S. Riche, formerly in charge of river improvement work in Texas for the federal government, would reach Waco tonight and would make a stop-over in this city.

Colonel Riche is on his way to Chicago, where he has accepted a very responsible federal position, involving large engineering experience and ability, and his many friends here will wish him every success. He is very popular in this city and has always been gladly greeted here. His great and constructive work in behalf of Texas waterways will not soon be forgotten by the people here.

It is not known whether or not Major Johnson, who succeeds Colonel Riche, will also be here tonight.

Girls Leave Waco on Hike Toward Border

Dressed in khaki and with little equipment except a full stock of courage and hope, Miss Blanche Bailey, daughter of Chief of Police R. L. Bailey of West, and Miss Beattie Hannah of Waco started at sundown yesterday from this city on a hike to El Paso, Texas, and then, if the "walking is good," they plan to go on to California. Miss Bailey is 22 years old and Miss Hannah is 21. They call themselves the girl Mutt and Jeffs. They headed toward Temple on leaving Waco.

The girls say that they are going for "experience." They plan to walk all the way, and feel confident of their ability to make their destination. Neither has taken a long hike before, according to the lists of their campaign expenses, filed with County Judge George N. Denton.

All candidates are given ten days after the primary in which to file their statements. The following statements have been received to date: J. F. Keller, justice of the peace, precinct 8, $18.55; Lon Wortham, county treasurer, $218.40; G. F. Talbert, county commissioner, precinct 4, $50.

Negro Held for Assault. Chief Detective Hall took charge of Morris Harvey, negro, yesterday afternoon and had him transferred to county jail on a charge of assault with intent to murder. It is alleged that Harvey is the assailant who stabbed another negro almost to the point of death Monday night. Harvey had been let out on bond by the county officers on a different charge.

Two More Buyers of Goldstein-Migel Off to Eastern Marts

Going to join the staff of Goldstein-Migel buyers who are already in the east, Fred M. Hirsch and Theo. Stein left Waco yesterday afternoon for New York. Mr. Hirsch will make purchases of fall goods for the several departments of fancy goods and small wares, of which he is manager, and Mr. Stein will purchase for his department, the millinery.

Mr. Hirsch and Mr. Stein will probably be in the East three or four weeks. Both expect to buy very liberally, in anticipation of a busy fall and winter season at the Goldstein-Migel store. The growth of this store has been phenomenal, necessitating the purchase of larger and still larger stocks in all departments each season. The buyers who go to market for the various departments are always on the alert for the very best and latest in their line. Typical of the success of the Goldstein-Migel store in keeping up to the minute in matters of fashion, is an experience related by a lady who recently returned from New York.

"Before going away," she said the other day, "I went to Goldstein-Migel's for a traveling dress. They showed me quite a number, from which I selected the one I liked best. When I got to New York about a week later, I visited one of the biggest stores, at which a display of new modes in traveling dresses was being made. Imagine my surprise at finding among the models which were heralded as the very latest the identical model which I had purchased a week before at Goldstein-Migel's! Evidently they get things at Goldstein-Migel's just as soon as they do in New York."

"Stranded." Written by Anita Loos, produced by Fine Arts Triangle, and starring Bessie Love and De Wolf Hopper, "Stranded," showing at the Hippodrome today only, is one of the most humanly appealing and carefully and effectively developed of all the Triangle pictures. Bessie Love is not only pretty and winsome in her role of Gladys, the little waif trapeze actress in a fifth-rate vaudeville troupe, but she proves herself an artist of the highest ability who understands how to interpret her character in the most effective way. Miss Love can now be numbered among the real stars of the screen, an ingenue girl being tried out. Griffith with an experienced and gifted eye saw in the girl that divine something that enables an artist to portray the real emotions of a heart and mind, and in this picture Miss Love justifies his confidence and training. Mr. Hopper appears in a sympathetic role here, in the part of a comedian, and does the best of his work yet seen in pictures. As the old Shakespearean actor lived past his day he is a pathetic figure and a lovable one.

Gladys and De Wolf Hopper are in the same company of vaudeville playing one-night stands, and when the manager persists in annoying the girl, Gladys gallantly takes her under his protection. The show is stranded after the girl falls and breaks her arm, and the players scatter. Gladys takes her with him to a little village where he becomes a dramatic instructor, and passing her as his daughter to better insure her protection, he succeeds in establishing himself as a respected citizen in the town. Gladys is to be married to the hotel clerk, and everybody is happy. Then the manager comes through the town selling a magic soap, and begins to give trouble. The ending is both pathetic and happy, for the little girl finds happiness while old Gladys plays his last and best role at the wedding ceremony.

"The Stoning." Edison feature, with the beautiful young star, Viola Dana, seen here personally in "The Poor Little Rich Girl," is a photoplay so far above the ordinary that every one should take one hour's time off today and go to the Nickel.

In speaking of this special booking, Mr. Sonneman said: "We are advertising this as especially for preachers, church members and churchgoers, and while we do not anticipate big results, we do know that those who come will get a very distinct shock and it won't be caused by any big railroad wrecks or high dives or seeing nude girls, nor just good clean stuff, but the story in 'The Stoning' will start half-past every hour at the Nickel today."

Barbecue for Working Boys' Club Postponed Until Next Wednesday

The barbecue for the members of the Working Boys' club, which was to have been given yesterday by Mayor John Hollins, has been postponed until next Wednesday. The mayor's offer of a "feed" has aroused much attention among the boys of the club.

NEGRO RACE LABORS FOR ITS OWN UPLIFT

TABORIAN SPEAKERS BRING OUT EFFORTS NEGRO IS MAKING IN HIS OWN BEHALF.

ANNUAL SESSION FULL TILT

Sphere of Negro Woman Enlarged. Head Officer Day Called Second Washington.

The grand temple and tabernacle of the International Order of Twelve will get down to business today, commencing with the annual message of Chief Grand Mentor Day, and then the reports of all the other grand officers, and will be followed by the election of officers. The roll of temples and tabernacles was completed, and all the delegates who were eligible, seated.

Every one was right on the spot when the opening ode was sung yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock, and Daughter M. A. Johnson proceeded to order on time. It would remind one of a regular religious meeting to be present at the opening. Daughter Rosa Simpson, the deaconess and noted evangelist of the Methodist Episcopal church, took part in the opening. She led out with a fervent prayer for the health, prosperity and happiness of the citizens of Waco, the mayor of the city, the governor of the state, the president of the United States, and then she told the Lord all about the knights and the uplift of the race. When she went back to the days of slavery, the cry and groans of the slaves, it brought out many sobs and shouts of "amen" and "glory to God."

SOME ARE NOT LOYAL.

"We feel the presence of the Holy Spirit," said Chief Grand Mentor Day, "and yet there is so much that I feel to call your attention to this morning. As a race we are not as loyal as we should be. While we are struggling here to build up this order there are some who are working against it. There are those in our midst who have not learned the lesson of race loyalty. They need to learn it, and the sooner the better it will be. They are unfit for leaders in this order or any other. They seek only to destroy and don't know how to do otherwise."

"I have heard it said that some are planning to take the money back, and are threatening to rebel, and carry the order into some other organization, because they do not want to obey the edicts of the grand temple and tabernacle. This race of ours must learn to obey authority, and I hope that it will be done. You must obey, and what would be obeyed must obey himself. You are going to do as you have promised to do. This order is not going to be destroyed by you."

"No, never," came the response from several hundred voices. "And when you are in heaven or somewhere else the order will go on. This represents what the negro is doing for himself. He is not a beggar, but he wants to help himself."

Dr. Day took his seat in the midst of an outburst of loud and long applause. He is called the Frederick Douglass of the age, the man of the hour. He is following in the footsteps of the late Booker T. Washington, in teaching the negro to do for himself; teaching the negro to be loyal to his own race and racial traits.

The efficient recorder, Stella E. Gordon, read the journal, which was approved, and then the grand session turned attention to business, which was interspersed with short talks from representative men and women making up the order.

Daughter Nellie Day of Dallas, who is directly interested in the development of the women of the order, especially the young girls, delivered a telling address. She spoke of the work which Tabor was doing for the whole race, and paid a high tribute to the founder, Moses Dickson of St. Louis. In speaking of the good being done by the order, she said:

"It matters not from what part of the world a distressed sister knight or daughter may come, if he appears to a temple or tabernacle of the International Order of Twelve he would invoke fraternal greetings among those who belong to the order, and such mutual relief as necessary would be properly extended."

PAYS ELOQUENT TRIBUTE TO WOMAN.

"Proper estimate can never be put on her worth to man and society. Fair in her virtue, resistless in her power, polished in her manners, affectionate in her disposition, she at once entwines herself around the souls of men and aids the all animating and transforming fragrance of her noble nature into every phase of man's life and work. Man represents the understanding of the universe, woman the will; man he mind, woman the soul. It was a woman that walked through the streets of Alexandria with hair hanging in tangled locks upon her shoulders, her bosom heaving with the motion of the hidden fire of patriotism, hearing a flaming torch in one hand and a vessel of water in the other, exclaiming, 'I will burn the heavens with this torch and extinguish the fires of hell with this water, that man may love his God.'"

"Christ himself exalted woman by assuming her nature as a tabernacle of his divinity, and a temple of his Holy Ghost. Hearing the inner voice of our Creator, matrixed and tutored by a mother's love, man's reverence and veneration for her becomes an enduring part of his nature. In despair he appeals to heaven for relief, and in distraction he welcomes the celestial intervention of woman. She is ever ready."

"It is in the name of these women, I am appealing to our men for protection, for their love for their support. It is to the negro man to lift up his women, to protect his daughters, to see that there is meal in the barrel, and to see that she is well cared for. We want to bring up our children in the way of right and fear of God, and you must put us in charge of your homes in order to accomplish this."

This address was followed by many responses. "We are glad that we have women who are present on our cause," said Daughter M. A. Johnson, "and we feel that she has expressed the sentiment of us all. Too often we have to go it alone in this world. So many of our women have to build the churches, cottages and support husbands and sons, while the men walk around the streets and look wise."

Daughter Lucy Wallace of Galveston and J. J. Mason of Caldwell also spoke.

"You make me feel proud that I am a negro," said W. J. Mann of Weimer, "and I want to work as never before for my people. We have some strong women who are pleading our cause."

BLIND LEADER IS A SPEAKER.

At this point Henry Burch of Dallas was introduced and delivered an address. Burch, while blind, is one of the most active Christian workers in the race, and he is putting forth an effort to do something for the negro, and to help to encourage the young negroes to honor their leaders. He said that it was all right to gather around a man's grave and praise God for his life, and to cover his grave with flowers, but he thought that he should hear a little about his worth while he lived, and for that reason he brought along and for that reason he brought along the noble woman who stood by his side, Daughter M. A. Johnson, of Marshall.

He was proud of the work they were doing for the whole race, and stood ready to contribute his might. Burch told about the negro's struggle and how he had won.

A negro editor addressed the convention, W. E. King, of the Dallas Express. He has made his place among the leaders of his race, and his address was attentively listened to. King was proud of what had been done, and what was still being done. He is conservative and a safe leader.

The youngest daughters in the order were presented and given an ovation. Daughters Lenola Hopkins and Beatrice Martin, of Dallas. Both are high school girls, and are the youngest ever to be sent to the grand session. They are serving on some of the most important committees, being trained by the older members of active service.

W. S. Willis, secretary of the endowment department of the Negro Knights of Pythias, told about the work being done through his organization for racial development and uplift. At the head of the order was to be found Dr. A. N. Prince, one of the leading negro physicians of the state; Prof. M. M. Rodgers of Dallas, grand keeper of records and seal, and George N. Guest of Paris, a business man, grand master of exchequer. He told how they had erected a temple in Dallas costing $116,000; W. Sidney Pittman of Dallas, the son-in-law of the late Booker T. Washington, architect, and a negro contractor.

"If the erection of a building costing over a hundred thousand dollars has done nothing more, it has shown to the world that the negro is capable of managing great things. We did not borrow a cent from white people to put up this building, but it represents the negroes' own cash. I bring you greetings from your brother knights, and if there is anything we can do to add to your comfort, you have only to call on us."

H. S. Head of T. P. & L. Spends Day in Waco

H. S. Head, assistant to President J. F. Strickland of the Texas Power & Light Co., spent yesterday in Waco and may remain over most of today. Assistant Head of the company is at going on in Waco in connection with matters electrical, and that this city is getting to be more of a center for his people continually. In consequence of this his visits to this city are getting more and more frequent. worth of Booker T. Washington, and then spoke in terms of praise of Emmett J. Scott, secretary of Tuskegee institute, a native of Texas, graduate from the Texas schools, and having at one time worked on the Houston Post. The address was full of information, and at the close the body appropriated $25 to the fund by unanimous vote.

Daughter E. L. Collins of Austin read an original poem.

The social feature of the session was the banquet given last night at the park. It was attended by all the members of the grand temple and tabernacle, the local order and the colored citizens. The success of the banquet put on the face of Hiram Hawthorne, the manager, the smile of the "Gold Dust Twins."

The palatine guards will reach the city this morning from all parts of the state, and will take part in the parade, which promises to be one of the interesting features of the session.

Will Debate Federal Ownership of Telegraph Systems

The regular weekly meeting of the Waco Speakers' club will be held tonight in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce promptly at 8 o'clock, at which time the question for debate will be: "Resolved, That the federal government should maintain and operate a telegraph system in connection with the postal department." Speakers for the affirmative will be Warren Wood Hunt and Ed Johnston and for the negative T. Edgar Johnson and Albert C. Johnston. The orator of the evening will be Kyle A. Vick.

A full attendance of the members is desired.

Official Returns of County Election Show Little Change

Official returns from the forty-nine boxes in the county were completed yesterday by Secretary Charles B. Braun. While the complete figures make some slight change in the totals, none of the close results was materially affected. While one or two boxes for the coming in, it is considered on the whole that the results were given to the public very promptly. Figures on the election in this county stand practically as they have been published in the Morning News.

Waco Pythian Will Enjoy Watermelon Cutting Tonight

Neff will be master of ceremonies for the evening and a number of those present will be called on for impromptu talks. Dr. F. F. Bailey is chairman of the arrangement committee for this occasion which promises to be a pleasant feature in the social life of the order.

$517.15 for Railway Vacation Tickets Looks Like Prosperity

This doesn't smack very much of hard times, and is certainly a harbinger of better times to come.

A Waco business man, the head of large interests in Texas and one of two adjoining states, has just left here with members of his family for a number of points in the east, and the total of the amount paid the railroad from which tickets were purchased for the members of his family reached the sum of $517.15. This sum he planked down very cheerfully and graciously to City Ticket Agent Mart Schaffer of the Katy, who had with his usual courtesy secured all needed information and done all that he could to give the gentleman a good start on his trip.

The tickets will keep the gentleman and members of his family out of the city several weeks, and the itinerary includes Chicago, Detroit, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Albany, New York, Washington, Cincinnati and St. Louis.

WHY "ANURIC" IS AN INSURANCE AGAINST SUDDEN DEATH!

Sufferers from Backache, Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble

Before an insurance company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test the urine and report whether you are a good risk. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, rheumatism, dizziness, and the twinges of lumbago, rheumatism and headache. The urine is often cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore and sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. This is the time you should consult some physician of wide experience—such as Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Send him 10c for large "Anuric." Write him your symptoms and send a sample of urine for test. Experience has taught Dr. Pierce that "Anuric" is the most powerful agent in dissolving uric acid, as hot water melts sugar, besides being absolutely harmless and is endowed with other properties, for it preserves the kidneys in a healthy condition by thoroughly cleansing them. Being so many times more active than lithia, it clears the heart valves of any sandy substances which may clog them and checks the degeneration of the blood vessels, as well as regulating blood pressure. "Anuric" is a regular insurance and life-saver for all big meat eaters and those who deposit lime-salts in the joints. Ask the druggist for "Anuric," put up by Dr. Pierce, in 50-cent packages.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for the liver and bowels have been favorably known for nearly 50 years.

BRAZOS STATISTICS ARE PUBLISHED IN FORM OF PAMPHLET

"The Brazos River of Texas" is the title of a comprehensive and exhaustive booklet which has been gotten out by the Chamber of Commerce of Waco and the city commission of this city. The booklet containing complete information relative to the lower reaches of the river—say from Waco to the Gulf of Mexico, also some necessary information relative to the source, water shed, and drainage area of the river above Waco.

President W. W. Seley of the Brazos River and Valley Improvement Association yesterday began mailing out these booklets, which contain the freight tonnage survey of Waco and territory tributary, also commercial statistics and economic results of the improvement to commercial navigation. The booklet is endorsed by the city of Waco through Mayor John W. Bollins and the city commissioners, by the Waco Chamber of Commerce and by M. B. L. and by the executive board of Waco and Brazos river improvement, of which W. W. Seley is chairman. It was compiled by C. W. Payne, statistician, after several months' patient and careful work in gathering the data included, which necessitated a great deal of travel and investigation.

President Seley will send copies to many congressmen, heads of committees, members of important bodies having to do with river improvement, and others who might be useful at some later period in the making of the navigation and flood prevention work. The booklet is a really valuable contribution to the statistical literature bearing on the river, and should be prized and kept by those securing a copy.

Fire Marshal Begins Notifying Merchants About Pole Removals

Fire Marshal Joe Carlisle yesterday began officially notifying all persons on Austin avenue between Third and Ninth streets to remove poles, electric signs or other obstructions which may be in the path of the white way, as these obstructions doubtless will begin coming down at once, as the city is not in a position to wait long because of the fact that it is the intention to have the white way fully installed and in operation during the Cotton Palace; it is believed that this will be a striking change in condition on at least one thoroughfare and will attract attention of all visitors, showing that each recurring visit to the city is marked by changes, improvements and betterments.

It is earnestly hoped by City Electrician E. F. Copley that the work may be started next week, as there is much to do, and he is anxious to have the time to see that the work is done in the best and most permanent manner and yet have it ready for the Cotton Palace; there is still plenty of time, he said yesterday, if everybody immediately complies with the resolution and notification to remove obstructions.

It is thought that when the work is started there will be no hitches in the way of waiting for material, as everything has been ordered some time and much of it is now on the rails and headed for Waco.

Illinois Cavalrymen Issue Creditable Newspaper

"First Illinois Cavalryman" is the title of an eight-page weekly newspaper published by the First Illinois Cavalry, stationed in the Brownsville District, Brownsville, Texas, and the publication fairly bristles with military news from that section, showing how the troops have been disposed, the orders issued, activities about the camps, studies in camp life, personal incidents, etc., etc. The paper contains pictures of "men of the hour on the border."

Under the headline of the paper appears the following, relating to the Illinois cavalymen: "First from Chicago, First to the Border, First in Service." In bold type, across the page a little further down, appears the following significant message: "To the Home Folks: You are our only concern; otherwise we are well, happy and contented."

A few copies have been received in Waco and through the courtesy of a friend of the News a copy was secured for inspection.

Waco Not Heavily Represented at Epworth Camp

Not many Epworth Leaguers went from Waco to the annual encampment at Port O'Connor, and if the representation is not heavier proportionately than from other points, the gathering there will be disappointing; it is thought, though, that other sections of the state, particularly the southern section, will show larger numbers going to Port O'Connor.

This is the annual encampment, and it begins today, the program having been arranged some little time ago, and containing many interesting features. This is the first time the encampment has ever gone to Port O'Connor and the people there are going to do all they can to make the stay of the visitors pleasant and agreeable.

Would Perfect State Organization of Baraca-Philathea

There is a movement on foot among the Baraca-Philathea of Waco to call a state meeting and form a state organization, as the individual organizations are numerous in the state, but are not bound together in a Texas federation of any kind.

The matter is being threshed out among the Baraca and the Philathea, and it seems reasonably certain that something will be done soon. There is a strong feeling that there ought to be a state organization formed.

In case a meeting of this character is held, to take up the question of state organization, it is thought that Waco would be the logical place to hold it.

T. G. CONNALLY, VETERAN RESIDENT, PASSES AWAY

Has Lived in County for Over Half Century and Reared Large and Esteemed Family.

Thomas G. Connally, aged 75 years, a resident of McLennan county for nearly a half century, and a man who was universally esteemed, died yesterday morning at 5 o'clock at the residence of his son, C. B. Connally, 2424 Bosque boulevard.

Thomas G. Connally was born in Georgia on April 10, 1841, and served as a Confederate soldier during the dark days from 1861 to 1865, being a member of company A, Thirty-seventh Georgia regiment. He was a member of the McGregor camp of United Confederate veterans, and the camp of the Sons and Daughters of the Confederacy at McGregor was named for him. A few years after the war, in 1869, Mr. Connally removed to Bryan, Texas, and in 1879 came to McLennan county, settling near McGregor on a good farm. There he earned a good living and lived in comfort until advancing years made it impossible for him to look after matters requiring much time and effort. Few men in the country had the confidence and respect of the people as did Thomas G. Connally. He is survived by his wife, to whom he had been married for a little more than a half century, and by six sons and one daughter, as follows: Mrs. Tom Gaddy, Eddy; Lee and Forest Connally; McGregor; Dr. H. E. Connally; Waco; Tom Connally Jr.; Clarence C. Connally; Eddy; Clem B. Connally, Waco. Tom G. Connally of Marlin, who has just received the nomination for congress from this district, is a nephew of deceased.

The funeral will take place today from the First Presbyterian church at McGregor, services conducted by Rev. E. E. Ingram, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of Waco; Rev. F. C. Baker and Rev. Julian Sleeper of McGregor. The pall bearers will be the six sons of the deceased, whose names are given above. Interment will be in the McGregor cemetery.

Honorary pall bearers will be Joe Cavitt, George Canfield, C. P. Shaffer, Dr. H. E. Blalock, J. C. Walton, H. E. Hackney, C. L. Ramsey, J. S. Elmore, W. J. Graham, J. C. Alexander, F. P. Lyons, E. N. Graham, J. C. Torbett, Dr. A. J. Sewell, F. H. Smith.

$517.15 for Railway Vacation Tickets Looks Like Prosperity

This doesn't smack very much of hard times, and is certainly a harbinger of better times to come.

A Waco business man, the head of large interests in Texas and one of two adjoining states, has just left here with members of his family for a number of points in the east, and the total of the amount paid the railroad for the tickets was $517.15. This sum he planked down very cheerfully and graciously to City Ticket Agent Mart Schaffer of the Katy, who had with his usual courtesy secured all needed information and done all that he could to give the gentleman a good start on his trip.

The tickets will keep the gentleman and members of his family out of the city several weeks, and the itinerary includes Chicago, Detroit, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Albany, New York, Washington, Cincinnati and St. Louis.

WHY "ANURIC" IS AN INSURANCE AGAINST SUDDEN DEATH!

Sufferers from Backache, Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble

Before an insurance company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test the urine and report whether you are a good risk. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells or the twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism and gout. The urine is often cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore and sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. This is the time you should consult some physician of wide experience—such as Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Send him 10c for large trial package of his new discovery—"Anuric." Write him your symptoms and send a sample of urine for test. Experience has taught Dr. Pierce that "Anuric" is the most powerful agent in dissolving uric acid, as hot water melts sugar, besides being absolutely harmless and is endowed with other properties, for it preserves the kidneys in a healthy condition by thoroughly cleansing them. Being so many times more active than lithia, it clears the heart valves of any sandy substances which may clog them and checks the degeneration of the blood vessels, as well as regulating blood pressure. "Anuric" is a regular insurance and life-saver for all big meat eaters and those who deposit lime-salts in their joints. Ask the druggist for "Anuric," put up by Dr. Pierce, in 50-cent packages.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for the liver and bowels have been favorably known for nearly 50 years.

BRAZOS STATISTICS ARE PUBLISHED IN FORM OF PAMPHLET

"The Brazos River of Texas" is the title of a comprehensive and exhaustive booklet which has been gotten out by the Chamber of Commerce of Waco and the city commission of this city. The booklet containing complete information relative to the lower reaches of the river—say from Waco to the Gulf of Mexico, also some necessary information relative to the source, water shed, and drainage area of the river above Waco.

President W. W. Seley of the Brazos River and Valley Improvement Association yesterday began mailing out these booklets, which contain the freight tonnage survey of Waco and territory tributary, also commercial statistics and economic results of the improvement to commercial navigation. The booklet is endorsed by the city of Waco through Mayor John W. Dollins and the city commissioners; by the Waco Chamber of Commerce and Y. M. H. A., and by the executive board of which W. W. Seley is chairman. It was compiled by C. W. Payne, statistician, after several months' patient and careful work in gathering the data included, which necessitated a great deal of travel and investigation.

President Seley will send copies to many congressmen, heads of committees, members of important bodies having to do with river improvement, and others who might be useful at some later period in making the case for navigation and flood prevention work. The booklet is a really valuable contribution to the statistical literature bearing on the river, and should be prized and kept by those securing a copy.

Fire Marshal Begins Notifying Merchants About Pole Removals

Fire Marshal Joe Carlisle yesterday began officially notifying all persons on Austin avenue between Third and Ninth streets to remove poles, electric signs or other obstructions which may be in the path of the white way, and these obstructions doubtless will begin coming down at once, as the city is not in a position to wait long because of the fact that it is the intention to have the white way fully installed and in operation during the Cotton Palace. It is believed that this will be a saving change in condition on at least one thoroughfare and will attract attention of all visitors, showing that each recurring visit to the city is marked by changes, improvements and betterments.

It is earnestly hoped by City Electrician E. F. Copley that the work may be started next week, as there is much to do, and he is anxious to have time to see that the work is done in the best and most permanent manner and yet have it ready for the Cotton Palace; there is still plenty of time, he said yesterday, if everybody immediately complies with the resolution and notification to remove obstructions.

It is thought that when the work is started there will be no litches in the way of waiting for material, as everything has been ordered some time and much of it is now on the rails and headed for Waco.
